

The Southport U3A Russian Group's Winter Study Day 2013

This Winter study day was the group's first and took place at the delightful Elizabethan manor-house hotel at Mitton Hall, Whalley. The day began of course with coffee followed by an hour of dialogue and pronunciation work on the theme of 'A Normal Day'. This was again followed by coffee in front of a roaring fire.

Next was the cultural 'bit' which focused on the Russian Christmas tale of 'Baboushka and the Three Kings'. Unfortunately, we had no time for the planned singing of carols because we were interrupted by the call to lunch; a delicious, two- course meal for £16.95 which I would thoroughly recommend to the U3A's Fine Dining Group.

A pre-arranged visit to the medieval church of All Hallows' Mitton and coffee at 'The Three Fishes ' completed the day.

I would really like to promote the tour of the church. If any group is interested then please contact me on 01704566933 or via info@devereuxeducation.co.uk.
